LONDON FACES LOCKOUT IN

THE ENGINEERING TRADE

London, March 10.—(By the A. P.)—There appeared to be this evening no hope of averting the threatened lockout in the engineering trade, the notice for which expires tomorrow. Despite strenuous efforts all day to arrive at a satisfactory solution of the dispute, a deadlock was reached late in the afternoon. The engineers' leaders announcing that they could not accept the employers' proposals regarding shop management, or recognition of the union, or the question of overtime, to which the workers are objecting as tending to increase unemployment, and the further question of whether the workers shall be given a voice in deciding what constitutes unavoidable overtime.

One of the points in dispute is the determination of the principle of the right of employers to exercise managerial functions, which must be accepted by the engineers' representatives before the lockout notices could be suspended. This was not accorded to, and late this afternoon it was announced that the lockout notices would be posted tomorrow. The lockout will affect 1,000,000 men.

At this meeting Sister Dean invited the tent to an all day sewing day at her home on Town street, Thursday, March 16, when the work will comprise sewing on aprons. A basket lunch will be in order. The meeting closed in the usual form with the salute to the flag.

Philadelphia's Swift Justice.

Philadelphia has found an effective way to deal with the crime wave. All the law-enforcement agencies of the city dropped their bickerings and got busy at the same time. Philadelphia handled the longest list of criminal cases in any single term of the history of its criminal courts. Of these, fifty-nine were homicide cases, involving sixty-four deaths. One judge handled the murder by his action in New-York murder cases. This judge ignored precedent and sentenced a murderer who based his entire hope of escape from the death penalty on the long-standing practice to the electric chair as guilty of first degree murder. That ended the custom. . . .

The criminal classes understood. Justice swift and sure awaited their apprehension in the future. They heeded the warning. Criminals fear most of all quick trials and heavy sentences. Criminals are far scarcer in Philadelphia today than three months ago.—Boston Herald.
